Indian Health Kiosk is a venture aiming to deliver health care in non-urban regions in India. Initiated by professor Dhrubis Biswas at IIT Kharagpur, the venture has been developed further in collaboration with Finnish universities and companies.

Join us in this event to

- learn about your possibilities to enter the Indian market and to find technology partners
- understand business opportunities in the growing BoP segment
- become part of high-growth health venture ecosystem
- take part in creating accessible health care
